SACRAMENTS

Holy Sacrifice of the Mass

Saturday (anticipated): 5:30 PM
Sunday: 8:00 AM; 10:30 AM; 12:00PM
Monday-Saturday: 8:00 AM
Holy Days of Obligation: see inside

Penance & Reconciliation:

Monday-Thursday; Saturday: 7:30-7:50 AM
Saturday afternoon: 4:00-4:50 PM

A Catholic is obliged to confess serious sins in kind and number to a priest. If one is conscious of having committed serious sin, Confession ought to be made before receiving the Eucharist.

Baptism: Please call to arrange for your child's baptism before or soon after birth. A Godparent must be a Catholic in good standing.

Anointing of the Sick:

Please call for a priest to celebrate this Sacrament of Healing and Forgiveness for someone who is seriously ill or in danger of death. Do not wait until the sick person is unconscious.

Matrimony:

All Catholics ought to seek to have their marriage blessed by the Church so as to live in God's good graces & receive the Eucharist. Marriage cannot validly exist between baptized persons unless it is also a sacrament (Canon 1055.2). Contact a priest a year prior to the intended date of marriage to ensure proper preparation.

Confirmation: Need to complete your Sacraments of Initiation? Call Mrs. Kachnowski at 908-245-6572. She will help you prepare for confirmation. If they can do so without serious inconvenience, Catholics ought to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation before being admitted to marriage (Canon 1065).

RCIA: Desire baptism? Called to be a Catholic Christian? Contact Deacon David at 908-245-6572 and he will help you discern God's call to holiness.

 Happy Birthday Pop
 Req. by Carmela Lefano & Family

The Kingdom of Heaven is a sacred place in which there is no more death, no more evil, no more sadness. When the Church was growing in the Roman Empire, she was confronted by a society (kingdom) that was antithetical to the Christian sense that life is sacred and must be regarded as a gift from God. In ancient Rome, children and women had no rights, no dignity, no place in society other than to please the ruling class. Only male citizens had rights. Children were regarded as a financial liability. When a child was born the father would examine the newborn for health and gender, and for any reason he was legally permitted to kill or reject his child. Girls were an expensive investment especially when it came to a dowery. They also had to be taken care of in many ways being the “weaker” sex. So it happened that many girls were either drowned or sent to the dumps to die. It would happen often that these discarded girls would be taken in and raised to become prostitutes. So, most families had one daughter, the rest were sons.

Women had no rights or dignity granted them. They were to bear children, care for the home and serve the husband. They were helpless to protect their newborn from their husband’s right to choose. You see, pro-choice is nothing new.

The killing of another person was all too tolerated. Thousands would attend the gladiatorial games and cheer as one man would slay another. Then go home and abuse their wives full of this bloodlust. Soon our early ancestors in the faith would be featured in the arenas, being slaughtered by gladiators, or fed to the hungry lions. St. Ignatius of Antioch prayed, “I am the wheat of God, ground by the teeth of wild Beasts,” as he was martyred.

It seems that we are in the same predicament as 2000 years ago. All that Christianity introduced to a violent and uncivilized world is being rejected. We clearly see it in the attacks against the sacredness of human life. Abortion is legal, unjust wars persist, people enjoy the “action” movies as murder and mayhem become entertainment, and schools are shot up. Where or when will it end?

Women have gained rights but unfortunately, the right to choose the death of their child has been promoted as their greatest right. It has even been proposed that women have the right to kill their child up to 30 days after birth (acc. Peter Singer, ethicist).

The ancient Romans also had diverse sexual ethics. While women were necessary for childbearing, sexual acts between men and other deviant sexual deeds were totally permitted. Incest was accepted too. But with the advancement of Christian ethics, and the conversion of many, these practices were recognized as opposed to the dignity of the human person and a misuse of the sexual act which was primarily for the procreation of children and the unity of the married couple. Yet two thousand years later, marriage is fading away, the right to life is very selective, human sexuality is abused and violence (actual and virtual) is all too common.

As the Church, which has always fostered the sanctity of life, the dignity of the human person and sacredness of human sexuality, we will continue especially at a time when most are either against morality or indifferent, to promote the love that Christ commanded – Love God with all our being and love our neighbor -even our enemy - as he loves us. While the Kingdom of Heaven is about our existence in God, we can experience a taste of it in this life despite the motives of the evil one. Your kingdom come on earth as it is in heaven.

Pax Christi, Fr. Paul

O my God, teach me to be generous,
to serve you as you deserve to be served,
to give without counting the cost,
to fight without fear of being wounded,
to work without seeking rest
and to spend myself without expecting any reward,
but the knowledge that I am doing your holy will.

Amen.

RACHEL’S VINEYARD

The Church can also be a place to heal. We are called to “be merciful like the Father.” So many are suffering from the effects of abortion. Where can they heal? Where can they feel safe and loved?

The Archdiocese of Newark Respect Life Office will be hosting four upcoming Rachel’s Vineyard retreats in 2022 to heal the wounds from abortion. Retreat dates are:

September 22-24

Saint John Vianney, Curé of Ars, Confessor (1786-1859)

August 4, feast day

It has been said of more than one person, of more than one Saint, that they were the prodigies of their century. This is perhaps true of no one more than of the Curé of Ars. This man, who was so remarkably humble, for about thirty years saw the whole world, as it were, attentive to his virtues, the entire Christian world at his feet. He is certainly a marvel of the pastoral apostolate and sanctity.

Born three years before the French Revolution into a humble and profoundly Christian family, at Dardilly near Lyons, he was at first a little shepherd, occupied also with the cultivation of the land. From his earliest years he was noted for his candor, piety, love for the Blessed Virgin, and charity for the poor. He desired to become a priest and reached the altar through his piety rather than through his talents. Lack of schooling during the Revolution had made Latin grammar virtually inaccessible to his best efforts. The bishop asked, however, whether he was pious; and when he heard that he said his Rosary like an Angel, ordained him.

After a few years of parish work as an Assistant Pastor, in 1817 he was placed in charge of the parish of Ars, a small village considered backward and scarcely half-Christian. On his way there, solitary and in poverty, when he saw in the distance the steeple of the church, he knelt and prayed God to bless his ministry. His first concern was to visit his parishioners, and he soon won them over by his far-from-ordinary virtue. To their indifference to religion, then, a profoundly Christian spirit succeeded, and one saw the Lord's day observed to perfection; under the influence of a Saint, the parish of Ars became like a religious community. Word of this transformation passed from one person to another and soon, from many surrounding regions people came to hear him, enter humbly into the confessional, and obtain miracles. These he attributed to Saint Philomena, whose tomb had recently been discovered, and whom he called his dear little Saint. He was very attentive to the beauty of the sanctuary, to the preparation of his sermons, and to the orphanage which he founded; no application was excessive where these were concerned. For himself he was unsparing, sleeping in a damp basement and persecuted there incessantly by the devil. The villagers themselves became aware of his terrible combats with the one he called the grappin — literally a sharp-pronged anchor — the fitting name he gave the ancient enemy.

Ten years later, the reputation of this humble country priest had spread over Europe, and from everywhere there came impious scoffers, unbelievers, and libertines, as well as fervent Christians and those in sorrow; the former were converted by the thousands, the latter consoled and strengthened for their combats. He spent ordinarily from sixteen to eighteen hours daily in the confessional, in winter with his feet on an unheated stone floor; and the rest of his time in preaching, prayer, and teaching catechism in the church. He died at the advanced age of 84, despite his unrelenting penance and long-standing rheumatism, and loved by the whole world.

Reflection: Let us pray for holy priests to bring the world on its knees to its Saviour. No intention is more important than this one. The Curé of Ars will pray with us, if we ask him to do so, and protect the sacerdotal race from the unending, unrelenting dangers which threaten it everywhere.

St. Mary Major Basilica is located in Rome. It is one of the four major basilicas in the world. (All other basilicas are minor basilicas.)

The present church was built under Pope Celestine I (422–432). Pope Sixtus III (432–440), consecrated the basilica on the 5th of August 434 to the Virgin Mary. It honors the Virgin Mary who was proclaimed Mother of God at the Council of Ephesus of 431.

The past is no longer yours; the future is not yet in your power. You have only the present wherein to do good.
